Information

To be able to be exempted from the regulation stipulating 45 higher education credit points/semester it is of utmost importance that the cause for this is well motivated. Generally it is only those students who have succeeded in their previous studies at university level during one year at the minimum and have an acceptable motive who are allowed to register for more than 45 higher education credit points/semester (the limit is 60 higher education credit points/semester). Student's whole study engagement will therefore be assessed. This application is very restrictive. Documents that verify the causes given are to be enclosed.

I would like to cite following arguments for being allowed to register for more than 45 higher education credit points/semester:

Decision
